Some stats, since [REDACTED] inquired:

We sent 152824 pdf responses consisting of 87gb of data between 12:30 and 22:00. I've attached all the requests.

"I thought we had monitoring for this? Why didn't we notice earlier in the day": The current scraper check is based on a 6 week window that still includes our peak traffic period at this point in time. The level of pdf downloading we saw today would have not been abnormal in November on a Sunday evening. So, plenty of tweaking there left to be done.
